

GHOST CREEK RAILWAY CO.

DATE: M/1/e	TELEGRAM	SENT BY: [Signature]	REC'D BY: [Signature]
--------------------	----------	-----------------------------	------------------------------

Welcome to the Saloon Stand-Off. A mysterious fortune teller has come to the small town of Ghost Creek and revealed a spine-chilling premonition. She foretells the imminent murder of Avery Rogers, a cattle baron and Ghost Creek's richest (and meanest) resident. There are six suspects and the clock is ticking. There's a tangled web of grudges, lies and secrets to unravel if Avery is to survive beyond sunset!

Set in the dusty, lawless lands of the Wild West, this immersive murder mystery will see you and your fellow dinner guests become both murder suspects and detectives for the evening. Will you be able to unravel the clues, pinpoint the motives and foil a murder plot before coffee is served?

SAWYER WEST

You're a travelling salesman, peddling your brand of West & Sons revitalising health tonics across the country. Beneath your winning smile, you're nothing more than a two-bit snake-oil salesman. You make your living going from town to town to separate fools from their cash, but you've had a spate of bad luck and you're desperate enough now to do anything for a quick buck.

Suggested clothing and props: A salesman is nothing without his product, so you always keep a few bottles of West & Sons tonic to hand. Other than that, you travel light, wearing a freshly pressed suit, a waistcoat and shirt, and a bowtie. You carry a small suitcase.

Character actions: You're about as charming as they come, so you're always quick with a smile or a reassuring pat on the hand. Being a salesman is all about keeping up appearances so you're sure never to let your smile slip.

Character relationships: You like to charm everyone you come into contact with, even if that means smiling through Earl's inane jabbering or Clara's foul tempers.